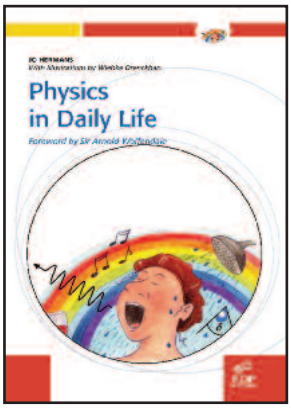
Physics in Daily life

By Jo Hermans

ISBN: 978-2-7598-0705-5
Published in March 2012
112 pages - 18 € TTC



Summary

Why is water blue? How do we localize sound? Why do we sing in the bath? Why is ice so slippery? What is the speed of falling raindrops?
Finally the Europhysics News columns, "Physics in Daily Life", are brought together in one inspiring volume. These pages hold the wonders of a candle flame, the secret of surviving the sauna heat, and the mysteries of bubbles and balloons.
For everybody with a bit of physics background this book playfully reveals insights into everyday conundrums. This is science at its most accessible and satisfying.
